

CONGRESSMAN DAVIS ANNOUNCES FATHERHOOD BRIEFING

WASHINGTON, DC (MAY 17, 2012) – CONGRESSMAN DANNY K. DAVIS ANNOUNCES FATHERHOOD BRIEFING FOCUSING ON BUILDING HEALTHY FAMILIES

On June 7, 2012, The Gold Room (2168 Rayburn House Office Building) from 9:00-10:30 a.m. I will host a forum about fatherhood, healthy families, child welfare and reentry community stakeholders as we weigh issues raised by father absence-and the social and economic context affecting men's abilities to be responsible fathers-that spans a wide spectrum of social policy domains including income support, employment and training, housing, and the criminal justice system.

Guest panelists will share private initiatives and federal cross-cutting initiatives aimed at coordinating the cooperation and collaboration among existing public programs impacting poor low-income working men towards the attainment of ensuring positive effects on their children particularly during times of economic downturn.

For more information, please click here. For further questions or concerns, please contact Helen Mitchell via helen.mitchell@mail.house.gov.